DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of species in invention I, corresponding to claims 1-10 and 84 in the reply filed on 09/09/2004 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-10 and 84 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Yadav et al. (U.S. 6,391,044).

Yadav et al discloses in figures 1-3, 14, and 15, an elongate tubular member (10) having a first proximal port (at (13) shows in fig. 1); a first and second flexible member (35) having a proximal end passes through the first proximal port of the tubular member (10) and distal end fixed to the tubular member (10) at a first point distal the first proximal port, wherein the first point being located at a circumferential position approximately 180 degree from the first proximal port; a filter (20) disposed about the first flexible member (35); and wherein said first and second flexible member (35) are fixed to an elongate member (40).
